Paper Numbering: Proceedings of SPIE follow an e-First publication model. A unique citation identifier (CID) number is assigned to each article at the time of publication. Utilization of CIDs allows articles to be fully citable as soon as they are published online, and connects the same identifier to all online and print versions of the publication. SPIE uses a seven-digit CID article numbering system structured as follows:

- The first five digits correspond to the SPIE volume number.
- The last two digits indicate publication order within the volume using a Base 36 numbering system employing both numerals and letters. These two-number sets start with 00, 01, 02, 03, 04, 05, 06, 07, 08, 09, 0A, 0B ... 0Z, followed by 10-1Z, 20-2Z, etc. The CID Number appears on each page of the manuscript.

Introduction

The Organizing Committee warmly welcomed attendees to the Seventh International Conference on Electronics and Information Engineering (ICEIE 2016), held 17–18 September 2016, in Nanjing, China.

The aim of the ICEIE conference is to present the latest research of scientists (professors, students, PhD Students, engineers, and post-doctoral scientists) related to electronics and information engineering topics. This conference provides opportunities for the delegates of different areas to exchange new ideas and application experiences face-to-face, to establish business or research relations and to find global partners for future collaboration.

After the peer-review process, the submitted papers were selected on the basis of originality, significance, and clarity for the purpose of the conference. The selected papers and additional late-breaking contributions were presented as lectures and made an exciting technical program. The conference program is extremely rich, and featured high-impact presentations. We hope that the conference results constitute a significant contribution to the knowledge in these up to date scientific fields.

The proceedings record presents the fully refereed papers presented at the conference. The main conference themes and tracks are electronics and information engineering, etc. Hopefully, all participants and other interested readers will benefit scientifically from the proceedings and also find it stimulating in the process.

All the organizing members are committed with us to make ICEIE more and more professional, with fully enjoyable academic research and discussion platforms for authors and attendees. We sincerely look forward to your consistent attention and support for the 8th ICEIE in 2017.
