Paper Numbering: Proceedings of SPIE follow an e-First publication model. A unique citation identifier (CID) number is assigned to each article at the time of publication. Utilization of CIDs allows articles to be fully citable as soon as they are published online, and connects the same identifier to all online and print versions of the publication. SPIE uses a six-digit CID article numbering system structured as follows:

- The first four digits correspond to the SPIE volume number.
- The last two digits indicate publication order within the volume using a Base 36 numbering system employing both numerals and letters. These two-number sets start with 00, 01, 02, 03, 04, 05, 06, 07, 08, 09, 0A, 0B ... 0Z, followed by 10-1Z, 20-2Z, etc. The CID Number appears on each page of the manuscript.

Introduction

It gives us great pleasure to announce that the second International Conference on Photonics Solutions (ICPS2015) held 6-8 July, 2015 at the Dusit Thani Hotel in Hua Hin, Thailand was a resounding success, with over 130 participants from more than 10 countries. On behalf of the organizers, we would like to express our gratitude for the support received from SPIE, The Optical Society, the Thailand Convention and Exhibition Bureau, the Defense Technology Institute, the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Rice, and the local optical companies whose generous contributions made this a successful meeting.

ICPS provided a unique opportunity for experts, academics, and educators to exchange knowledge and build friendships. The meeting consisted of two plenary lectures, invited speaker sessions, and a number of contributed oral and poster presentations. Resulting from the success of ICPS2015 are full articles from the plenary and invited sessions, together with contributed oral and poster presentations, which have been reviewed and compiled in this SPIE proceedings volume. It is our sincere hope that these proceedings will contribute to advancing our understanding of practical implementations and applications of photonics and serve as initiators for even greater achievements in the field.
