Indexing, Discovery, and Search Services

This document is a general overview of services that index or otherwise integrate with SPIE Digital Library content through a metadata feed or another method of metadata exchange. Each service may select to index certain SPIE Digital Library content only; to update their products at varying intervals of their choosing; and whether or not to include corrected or updated information. As a general overview of SPIE's data partners, this list is not exhaustive -- some proprietary and localized library-specific services have been omitted.
